

A Day in the Life of Landcare July 20th

A Day in the Life of Landcare – Submissions guidelines

July 20th 2014 marks 25 years since Landcare was announced as national initiative and we want to use that day to capture the diversity of Landcare and Landcarers and see what one of Australia's largest volunteer movement looks like 25 years on.

Help us celebrate this special anniversary by taking a photo of what Landcare means to you on July 20th and submitting it for inclusion in a Facebook album and the chance to win some great prizes. Later this year we will publish a special commemorative 'A Day in the Life of Landcare' book.

The best three entries as chosen by a panel of judges will also win a special prize pack containing 25 years of Landcare merchandise, two tickets to the 2014 National Landcare Awards gala dinner, and a copy of the Day in the Life of Landcare book.

Submit your photograph taken on July 20th, 20 word caption, and contact details to Landcare Australia by July 27th to be part of this exciting project. Please be sure to read the Terms and Conditions outlined below to make sure that your entry is eligible for inclusion.

This project is funded by the Australian Government.
